The CCPA provides consumers (California residents) with specific rights regarding their personal information. This section describes your CCPA rights and explains how to exercise those rights.

Access to Specific Information and Data Portability Rights: You have the right to request that we disclose certain information to you about our collection and use of your personal information over the past 12 months. Once we receive and confirm your verifiable request, we will disclose to you:

Once we receive and confirm your verifiable request, we will delete (and direct our service providers to delete) your personal information from our records unless an exception applies.

Please note that we may deny your deletion request if retaining the information is necessary for us or our service providers to:

- Complete the transaction for which we collected the personal information, provide a service that you requested, take actions reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you, or otherwise perform our contract with you.

Exercising Access, Data Portability, and Deletion Rights: To exercise the access, data portability, and deletion rights described above, please submit a verifiable consumer request to us at the mail address or email address noted below.

Only you or a person registered with the California Secretary of State that you authorize to act on your behalf, may make a verifiable consumer request related to your personal information. You may also make a verifiable consumer request on behalf of your minor child. You may only submit a request for access or data portability twice within a 12-month period. Such request must (a) provide sufficient information that allows us to reasonably verify the person about whom we collected personal information or an authorized representative of the same, and (b) describe your request with sufficient detail that allows us to understand, evaluate, and respond to the request.

Please note that we cannot respond to requests or provide you with personal information if we cannot verify your identity or authority to make the request and confirm the personal information relates to you. Peakline will only use personal information provided in the request to verify the requestor's identity or authority to make it. Making a verifiable consumer request does not require you to be a client or investor with us.

If you are not a client or an investor of ours, we will deliver our written response electronically or by mail. Please note that any disclosures we provide will only cover the 12-month period preceding our receipt of the verifiable request. The response we provide will also explain the reasons we cannot comply with a request, if applicable. For data portability requests, we will select a format to provide your personal information that is readily useable and should allow you to transmit the information from one entity to another entity without hindrance.

We do not charge a fee to process or respond to verifiable requests unless it is excessive, repetitive, or manifestly unfounded. If we determine that the request warrants a fee, we will tell you why we made that decision and provide you with a cost estimate before completing the request.

Unless permitted by the CCPA, we will not (a) deny California consumers goods or services, (b) charge California consumers different prices or rates for goods or services, including through granting discounts or other benefits, or imposing penalties, (c) provide California consumers with different level or quality of goods or services, or (d) suggest that California consumers may receive a different price or rate for goods or services or a different level or quality of goods or services.

However, Peakline may offer Californians certain financial incentives permitted by the CCPA that can result in different prices, rates, or quality levels. Participation in a financial incentive program requires CA Individual's prior opt-in consent, which may be revoked at any time.
